MEET PANINI

Panini is a Schreyer Scholar majoring in Spanish, International Politics, and History.

She has completed two internships—one as the Governance Latam student intern in Argentina and the second with NGO Management in Guatemala. Panini is passionate about THON and served as the donor and alumni relations chair for her THON organization, Springfield.

She also is a programming leader for the Pennsylvania Licensing System (PALS). After serving on the executive board of State of State for three years, she became its executive director. Panini also works as a student coder for the McCartney Institute for Democracy in the College of the Liberal Arts.
